On an impromptu odyssey across the U.K. an elderly American flautist amidst his own existential crisis reignites a disillusioned teenage bass player's passion for music.

BIRTH OF HER COOL

Face Your Fears

Discover Your Destiny

CONCEPT:

A female teen musician's coming-of-age story. An elderly American flautist nurses our teenage heroine through her performance anxieties. A gentle, British Whiplash. A comic, intelligent stoner road movie, offering a portal on the British Jazz scene. Including several of its eccentric, larger-than-life characters, who have already agreed to participate!

BIRTH OF HER COOL

The Story

IDA LATIF, a talented but self-critical teenage double-bass player, quits music after a performance meltdown with her father ALTAF, a veteran jazz pianist. When Ida then accidentally breaks BENJAMIN SPIRO's precious bamboo flute—one of only three custom-made instruments in existence—she becomes obsessed with making amends.

What begins as a simple shopping trip transforms into an unexpected odyssey across Britain. With cautious bank clerk MARCUS as chauffeur and best friend DAPHNE (obsessed with industrial music), they track down Benjamin's other two flutes. Their journey takes them from an Indian musical guru in Southall to Benjamin's formidable ex-lover ROZANA in London, finally reaching the remote Isle of Arran in Scotland, where ZAYED happily returns the third flute.

A magic mushroom experience, rescuing a suicidal local boy on a boat, and a storm-bound Scottish cèilidh rekindle Ida's love for performing. Meanwhile, Altaf finds unexpected romance with difficult folk-singer JUDI. Racing back to London for their final gig at the Vortex Jazz Club, Ida takes Benjamin's advice: lead, don't follow. She performs her original composition with Daphne's experimental accompaniment, discovering that true artistry isn't about perfection—it's about embracing the moment.
